PRESS RELEASE

Aerial Photographs of Lymm from Sky 1's comedy After Hours

The Lymm Photographic Society (LPS) is pleased to present some unique and interesting, mainly aerial, images of Lymm from Sky 1's comedy After Hours

Lymm provided the back drop for Sky's new comedy After Hours, which was filmed almost entirely in the village in the summer of 2014. The series includes some stunning photography showcasing the village including various aerial shots taken using an octocopter. Sky has kindly made available stills from some of these aerial shots and allowed the LPS to host these on its web-site. It is hoped that clubs local to Lymm will be interested in linking to the images from their own web-sites.

These unique images of Lymm can be found using the link of the LPS website's Community page :

The Lymm Photographic Society is a friendly bunch of enthusiasts who have formed a group/society for people of all ages and all abilities, who are interested in photography. This is a community group for anyone who wants to enjoy & improve their photographic skills. The LPS meets in the heart of Lymm village (twice a month) at the Spread Eagle. For more information visit the Society's web-site at <http://lymmphotosoc.org.uk/>

“After Hours”, recently aired on Sky 1, was directed by The Royle Family's Craig Cash and its stars included Ardal O'Hanlon, John Thomson and Jaime Winstone.
